Antares High Growth Shares Fund

May 2021

Fund description and investment return objective

The Fund aims to outperform the S&P/ASX 200 Total Return Index (after fees) over rolling five year periods. The Fund seeks to enhance returns through a range of investment strategies including long/short positions and active trading, along with the ability to use exchange traded derivatives.

Fund commentary

The Antares High Growth Shares Fund delivered a return of 3.0% (net of fees) for the month of May 2021.¹

Australian shares made healthy gains in May. Bank shares delivered strong returns given solid profit results for the half year on low funding costs and declining debt impairment costs. Consumer discretionary and healthcare also made solid gains with consumer optimism on the Australian economic recovery. Sectors that disappointed included information technology which essentially reversed all of the previous month's gains. Utilities also fell sharply.

Contributing to Fund performance were overweight positions in Aristocrat Leisure (ALL), Westpac (WBC) and Northern Star (NST). ALL pre-announced a 12% increase in its 1H21 profit after tax. This was driven by very good gaming product performance and buoyed by stronger than expected consumer sentiment and economic conditions in the US and Australasia. The upbeat announcement was viewed very positively by the market. All the major banks provided trading updates in May, with lower impairments driving earnings upgrades across the sector. The gold price rose by more than 8% in May, possibly as a reaction to rising inflation. NST also announced increased gold reserves and resources and an increased share in the central Tanami project.

Detracting value were overweight positions in Afterpay (APT) and Wisetech (WTC) and an underweight position in CBA. There was no particular news from APT but technology stocks were sold down heavily in early May, possibly in response to the market positioning for higher bond yields on the back of strong inflation data especially in the US. The sector regained some of the ground lost as the month progressed, but APT and WTC shares still finished down.

Australia's economic data suggests promising prospects for 2021. Strong results for business and consumer surveys suggest that Australia's economic recovery has considerable momentum. Car sales and housing construction activity are showing exceptional strength. The Federal Budget announced a lower budget deficit for 2020/21 with better than expected economic activity. The Budget also provided extended tax benefits for low and middle income earners, incentives for business investment and increased spending measures for health care and infrastructure. The Reserve Bank's monetary policy settings also remain highly supportive with guidance that interest rates should remain steady until 2024. The latest spate of coronavirus cases in Victoria appears to have driven more widespread vaccine uptake.

Investor profile

The Fund is actively managed and its returns may be volatile when compared with the benchmark return. As such, it may suit investors who are willing to accept higher risk in exchange for the potential opportunity to earn greater returns.

The Fund holds its investments on revenue account. Therefore, gains which are made by the Fund on its investments and distributed to unitholders are treated as revenue, rather than capital, with no entitlement to the capital gains tax (CGT) discount.

Investment terms and guidelines

Short selling involves borrowing a share from a prime broker to sell to the market, with an agreement to purchase that share back at a later date. When the Fund short sells a share, we anticipate taking advantage of declines in the price of that share by selling the share at one price, and then aiming to buy back that share at a subsequent lower price. Short selling is limited to 25% of the value of the Fund's net assets.

Enhanced long positions refer to the shares in which the Fund holds the largest overweight positions when compared to its benchmark weighting. Long positions are limited to 125% of the value of the Fund's net assets. All long and short positions will be managed to provide investors with a gross exposure to the sharemarket of up to 150%, but the overall net exposure will be between 90 - 100%.

Active trading refers to trading in shares where the Fund has held a range of different positions over a relatively short period of time, with a view to fully exploiting all available opportunities to add value as market circumstances change. It may also involve simply managing an overweight or other position held - adding to or reducing the position to benefit from smaller movements in the share price.
