

Investment objective

The Fund aims to generate long-term total returns by investing in hedge funds and other absolute return funds (Underlying Funds).

The Underlying Funds can include funds managed or operated by members of Macquarie Group (Macquarie Underlying Funds) and select external funds managed and operated by non-Macquarie Group companies (External Funds).

The Fund offers the potential for attractive long-term total returns with low correlation to traditional asset classes. We believe that each Underlying Fund has an investment strategy that is complementary to the other Underlying Funds in the Fund. By combining complementary investment styles, the Fund aims to produce consistent risk-adjusted returns from a diversified and well-balanced liquid alternatives portfolio.

Macquarie Professional Series Global Alternatives Fund

Macquarie Professional Series

Monthly report – 31 January 2022

Sector performance by Underlying Funds

Performance summary

- The Fund returned -0.15% in January 2022, in a month where the MSCI World Index decreased by more than 5% in USD terms.
- The best performing underlying fund was the P/E Global FX Alpha Fund, which delivers the strategy's dynamic currency allocation (+5.1%; contributing +1.1% to the Fund). The largest detractor was the FORT Global Trend Fund, whose exposure is price-based momentum (-1.9%; contributing -0.6% to the Fund).
- From a sector perspective, the largest impact to the portfolio came from equity indices. Markets were preoccupied by how the US Federal Reserve would deal with rising inflation figures, and equities, which had been trending upwards throughout 2021, reversed on the increased expectations of more rate hikes. Losses were driven by long positions in the US, particularly the S&P500 and the NASDAQ. Both FORT and PGIM Wadhvani cut their net long directional exposures during the month.
- Offsetting equity indices were gains in currencies and energies. In currencies, P/E's capital flows factor, which has seen investors buying US assets versus those of Europe and Asia, translated to a long US dollar position which generated positive returns. This was supported by other P/E factors such as relative growth expectations, where the US economy looks stronger than other parts of the world. Supplementing this was FORT's long energy positions particularly in oil contracts which included gas, crude, Brent, and heating.
- We continue to have conviction in our process of selecting and combining active managers with differentiated styles, with the aim of generating absolute returns independent of one another.
