Arrowstreet Global Equity Fund

Macquarie Professional Series

Monthly report – 30 June 2022

Performance summary

- The Fund returned -4.17% in June 2022, compared with a return for the Benchmark of -4.40%, with a lift in Chinese equities offset by wider developed and emerging market malaise in the face of ongoing inflation fears.
- IT, Financials and Energy led the index lower in June, with Health Care the lone market contributor of note. For the Fund, the largest relative sector contributors were Health Care, as a result of overweight positioning and stock selection in US Health Care, and Communication Services, owing to stock selection in US Communication Services. Energy was the largest relative detractor, driven by overweight positioning in Brazilian Energy, UK Energy, and Italian Energy.
- On a country basis, the US was again the main detractor from index returns, though partially offset by a small positive contribution from Chinese equities. For the Fund, the largest relative contributor was the US, owing to stock selection in US IT and in US Consumer Discretionary, as well as overweight positioning and stock selection in US Health Care. Japan was the largest relative country detractor, driven by stock selection in Japanese IT and in Japanese Industrials, and by overweight positioning in Japanese Materials.
- Arrowstreet employs a quantitative benchmark-aware approach, dynamically taking overweight and underweight positions in countries, sectors, and individual stocks, with the aim of achieving long-term outperformance of its Benchmark. Arrowstreet's core investment style seeks to outperform during a broad range of market environments.
