

SPW Global High Quality Fund - Retail

December 2022

Objective

The fund aims in AUD to outperform the MSCI Daily World Total Return Net World Index, after management costs and usual expenses, over rolling 3 to 5 year periods.

Strategy

The fund is an actively managed portfolio of global equities with a high quality bias and which are listed on recognised exchanges. The fund is exposed principally to high quality international listed companies. It seeks to invest in companies with predictable revenue growth that produce sustainable economic value over the long-term. The fund can have material exposure to cash where the portfolio manager considers this appropriate. Regional positioning is driven by bottom-up stock selection. The investment exposure is not subject to any geographical restrictions except that exposure to 'emerging' market listed companies is limited to no more than 30% of the assets. Sector positioning is also driven by bottom-up stock selection, and the investment exposure is not subject to any sector restrictions.

Monthly commentary

The SPW Global High-Quality Fund outperformed the MSCI World Index during the month by 2.4%, with the fund down 3.5%. The best performing stock during the month was Tencent (+14.9%). Sentiment continued to improve in December as covid restrictions continued to ease. This was despite the virus now having ripped through the population. Almost of third of Tencent's revenues come from gaming and this segment is seeing news flow improve. Domestically, Beijing have now approved various imported games that Tencent now has the right to distribute. These include Pokemon Unite from Nintendo and Valorant by Riot Games. This is the first-time imported games have received approval since the end of 2021. The pipeline remains strong, and we expect to see better growth for the segment in 2023 vs 2022. Other strong performers during the month were ABI (+2.7%) and Novartis (+1.6%). In terms of laggards, Alphabet (-13.7%) and the London Stock Exchange Group (-13.7%) underperformed the wider market. Big tech has struggled in 2022, a reversal of what we have got used to over the last decade. The market remains sceptical as to whether Alphabet can control their costs in the wake of slowing growth.
