

SPW Global High Quality Fund - Retail

April 2022

Objective

The fund aims in AUD to outperform the MSCI Daily World Total Return Net World Index, after management costs and usual expenses, over rolling 3 to 5 year periods.

Strategy

The fund is an actively managed portfolio of global equities with a high quality bias and which are listed on recognised exchanges. The fund is exposed principally to high quality international listed companies. It seeks to invest in companies with predictable revenue growth that produce sustainable economic value over the long-term. The fund can have material exposure to cash where the portfolio manager considers this appropriate. Regional positioning is driven by bottom-up stock selection. The investment exposure is not subject to any geographical restrictions except that exposure to 'emerging' market listed companies is limited to no more than 30% of the assets. Sector positioning is also driven by bottom-up stock selection, and the investment exposure is not subject to any sector restrictions.

Monthly commentary

The SPW Global High-Quality Fund outperformed the MSCI World Index during the month by 4.8%, with the fund up 1.7%. The best performing stock during the month was Philip Morris (+12.4%). In the latter half of February, as Russian tanks rolled into Ukraine, the shares of Philip Morris began to be sold down. This made sense up to a point as the company is known to have significant dealings in the region, including production facilities. Since the sell-off, management have confirmed that they are exiting the Russian market, and that Russia and Ukraine made up around 10% of 2021 earnings. This, along with good Q1 results during the month, has meant the shares gaining some of their previous losses. News on their heat-not-burn next generation product, called iQos, remains positive. We are seeing strong share gains in some of their more mature markets, and this is helping company margin. NetEase (+12.30%) and Unilever (+8.5%) were also strong performers during the month. In terms of laggards, Alphabet (-13.1%) and Philips (-9.7%) underperformed global markets.
