BY REGION

MONTHLY SUMMARY

The Munro Global Growth Fund returned 0.9% in October. Long equity positions were the key contributor, while short positions and portfolio hedging detracted, currencies had a neutral effect on monthly performance. Markets made a comeback in October, with most leading indices posting strong gains outside of Hong Kong and China. The key driver for the rally was the expectation of a "Fed Pivot", or at least a slowdown in the hiking cycle by the US Federal Reserve. Overall, company earnings were not as bad as feared which helped extend the rally. Disappointingly, Big Tech earnings and guidance came in light, with FX a big headwind and a slow-down in end markets for names like Microsoft in cloud computing and Amazon in Q4 holiday sales expectations. Positive contributors for the month included Constellation Energy, Visa and United Health. Detractors included Amazon and most of our short holdings that gave back recent performance as they rallied with the market.
