

Commentary

Global equities rebounded in December (+1.4%) with Utilities, Consumer Staples, Health Care and Materials outperforming, whilst Consumer Discretionary, Communication Services and Information Technology underperformed. US equities were up (+1.3%) with Omicron restriction fears easing, strong macro data and high inflation data, whilst the Fed continued its more hawkish messaging. European equities outperformed (+4.0%) also with Omicron restriction fears easing and high inflation data, the ECB announced policy tightening with reduced QE and balance sheet reduction while remaining accommodative.

Asian equities underperformed (-1.0%) led by weak Chinese equities (-4.0%) with ongoing headlines concerning ADR listings and regulation, while the People's Bank of China commenced policy easing. Japan underperformed (-0.6%) with higher inflation and unemployment rising slightly.

Elsewhere, Brent Crude (+12.9% in USD) rebounded, while Gold (+3.1%) rose as a safe haven and the US Dollar (DXY -0.3%) was stable.

Key contributors included:

- Consumer Cyclical - DM, notably UniCredit and Flutter Entertainment. UniCredit pushed higher over the month upon management committing to €16b of payouts from FY22-FY25, which was announced in addition to the €652m buyback that commenced in mid-December. Flutter Entertainment rebounded from a poor November for gaming stocks, announcing the purchase of Italian gaming operator, Sisal, for £1.62b late in the month. The acquisition aligns with the company's desire to increase market share in Italy and boost Flutter's presence in regulated markets.
- Mediatek in the Hardware cluster continued to benefit from its Dimensity 9000 chip, which was officially released in mid-December with the announcement that smartphone manufacturers Oppo and Xiaomi will begin to equip their new generation handsets with the chip. In addition, Mediatek also announced their new Wi-Fi and smart TV chipsets, which were positively received.

- Industrials cluster, including both Siemens and Airbus. Siemens continued to benefit from market reappraisal of the business, supported by strong performance of listed subsidiary, Healthineers. Airbus reacted strongly on the announcement it had received a major order for 100 A320neo family aircraft from Air France-KLM, with purchase rights on 60 more aircraft, in addition to four Airbus A350F Freighters. The order supplemented a strong month for Airbus which also received commitments from Singapore Airlines to replace its freighter fleet and Qantas in replacing Boeing as the preferred aircraft for the long-term renewal of its domestic narrow-body fleet.

Key detractors included:

- Infrastructure/Property - DM, notably Frontier Communications and Électricité de France (EDF). Frontier was impacted by reports of slower than expected broadband growth by cable companies which impacted market consensus for Frontier's subscriber growth prospects. EDF was impacted by the shutdown of four nuclear reactors during the month after inspections discovered faults as part of routine maintenance to the reactors at the Civeaux plant, which also caused a precautionary shutdown of the Chooz plant in the east of France, which uses the same technology. EDF stated they believe the shutdowns would result in a loss of 1TWh or output by the end of 2021, lowering profit guidance.
- JD.com, within the Internet/Software - Asia/EM cluster amid news in late December that Tencent has filed to reduce its stake in JD.com to approximately 2.3%, down from 17% and will no longer be the largest shareholder.
- Trip.com, within the Consumer Cyclical - Asia/EM cluster detracted after reporting Q3 revenue was down 9% from the previous quarter after the re-emergence of COVID-19 in China, despite also reporting international flight reservations increased 40% from the previous quarter.
