Monthly Fact Sheet

Fund Performance

- In September, the Fund underperformed its benchmark.
- Country/yield curve positioning benefitted relative performance.
- Sector/security selection positioning benefited relative performance. Selections in European investment-grade corporates contributed. Allocation in high-yield corporates also boosted returns, driven by communications names in Europe as spreads tightened over the month.
- Currency positioning did not materially impact performance.

Fund Strategy

- Our base case expectation is for a gradual, manageable slowdown in the global economy accompanied by an equally gradual slide in inflation—albeit one that we expect will stop short of pre-pandemic levels.
- During the month, overall exposure to Emerging Market (EM) assets increased in market value terms as we added some Mexican local rates and trimmed some hard currency South African basic industrial bonds as well as some bonds issued by a Brazilian food processing company.
- Within investment-grade corporate bonds, corporate fundamentals have inflected but remain strong. Rates increases have been slow to impact investment grade funding costs. Over the coming quarters we expect fundamentals to weaken more but given the strong starting position even as balance sheets weaken, fundamentals should remain supportive of credit.

- During the month, we meaningfully reduced our credit allocation.
- We continue to have a preference for BBB investment-grade credits over BB high yield at the margin, given current spread levels and an environment of slowing global growth.
- In September, we also trimmed our allocation to high-yield corporate bonds although at lesser extent by selling some basic industrial bonds, Luxembourg-based REITs and American cruise operator company bonds in the BB tranche of the credit rating spectrum.
- Our currency decisions are primarily tactical. We have been de-risking currency over the past few months and shifting to a fundamentals driven approach, while we monitor the current market environment and the effectiveness of our quant signals and factors.
- In September, we went short the US dollar and broadly remain neutral in all other Developed Market (DM) currencies. In EM currencies, currency risk has been reduced and we do not have exposure to local rates positions.

Fund Composition Disclosure

Numbers may not sum due to rounding.

The Fund seeks to control risks and enhance returns through currency management. The Fund intends to hedge to Australian dollars most of the foreign currency exposures of its debt and fixed income securities; however, up to 10% of the Fund's net asset value may be exposed to the risks and returns of international currencies. The Fund is currently 98.5% hedged to Australian dollars.

The Fund may invest up to 40% of its assets in lower-rated, higher-yielding noninvestment-grade debt and fixed-income securities as rated by a credit rating agency (CRA). Debt and fixed income securities that are rated below investment grade are commonly referred to as "junk bonds." They are considered to be more speculative in nature and subject to a greater risk of loss of principal and interest income than investment-grade securities. Investment-grade-rated assets, on the other hand, are those which, in the opinion of a CRA, are more likely to meet their financial commitments. Ratings assigned by a CRA are merely the opinion of that CRA about the likelihood of the issuers of the rated securities to meet their debt obligations when they fall due or the likelihood of loss in the event of a default of the issuer of the rated securities. Credit ratings used by the investment manager are intended for use by wholesale clients, and should not be relied upon by retail clients when making a decision about the product offered in the Fund's PDS. Ratings should not be taken to be an indication of investment merit or a recommendation to buy, sell or hold any particular investment. There are inherent limitations with credit ratings; future events and developments cannot be foreseen and credit ratings may change over time due to, among other things, a change in the financial condition of the issuer. The investment manager may use credit ratings of securities as an input into security selection alongside the investment manager's own screening, research and risk-management processes.

Performance Figures

The performance figures are historical and past performance is not necessarily an indication of future performance. The information above may change.
