FUND UPDATE

The Advance Moderate Multi-Blend Fund produced a negative return over the month of December.

Following four consecutive hikes of 75bps this year, the US Federal Reserve decelerated the rate hike in December and lifted Federal Funds Target Rate by 50 basis points to a range between 4.25% and 4.50%. Despite another downside surprise on US November CPI, Fed officials reiterated the hawkish stance and indicated a higher terminal rate of above 5.00% over the next year. The European Central Bank delivered a 50 basis points hike and increased its deposit rate to 2.00% in line with market expectations. The Reserve Bank of Australia raised the cash rate target by 25 basis points to 3.10%. Risk sentiment was weak heading into the year end, with market concerns around recession risk heightened, signalled by contractionary Service PMI readings in the US.

The domestic equity market, as represented by the S&P/ASX 300 Accumulation Index, returned -3.3% over the month. International Equities, as measured by the MSCI World ex Australia Net Return AUD Hedged Index, returned -5.2%. Unhedged international equities slightly underperformed hedged exposure due to a weaker USD, returning -5.5%. Emerging Market Equities, as measured by the MSCI Emerging Markets EM AUD Net Total Return Index, returned -2.6%. Chinese offshore equities outperformed as the Chinese government shifts its focus away from Covid containment back towards economic growth.

Domestic listed property as measured by the S&P/ASX 300 A-REIT Index returned -4.0% and global listed property as measured by the FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Developed AUD Hedged Net Total Return Index, returned -3.8% over the month.

Global yield curves shifted higher. The US 10-year treasury yield moved 27bps higher to 3.88%, and the Australian 10-year government bond yield moved 52bps higher to 4.05% over the month. Domestic fixed interest, as measured by the Bloomberg Ausbond Composite 0+ Yr Index, returned -2.1%. International fixed interest markets, as measured by the Bloomberg Barclays Global-Aggregate Total Return AUD Hedged index, returned -1.3%.

Over the month both growth and defensive oriented portfolios had negative results.
